DR. SUBMISSION & SON, No. 118 Market St.

AN INDIAN PERFORMANCE—Richard Gardner was before the police court on Saturday afternoon on a charge of aiding and abetting an assault on a little son of Melina Robinson, a Melina's boy and a son of Gardner's, while playing together, quarreled and came to blows, and the Gardner boy it seems got the worst of it. Seeing this, Gardner, sen., called an older son to the rescue, and stood by while his big boy gave the little Robinson a severe beating, refusing to interfere or to permit others to interfere, until the smaller boy, bruised and bleeding, gave way exhausted. The fellow was fined $5 and costs, which he paid. A State warrant having been issued for him by Justice Crowell, he went before that officer and gave bond in the sum of $100 to keep the peace for a period of one year.

JUSTICE WAIT—This Justice had a nice mess to untangle on Saturday last. Mary Caroline Bach entered complaint against Henry Bruebank and Lizzie Roth, charging them with fornication, whereupon Bruebank had notice served upon him by Justice Wait. It seems that Mary Bach contemplated a suit against Bruebank, but the latter promised to keep his promise and accordingly the matter was dropped.

A COMMITTEE of two members each from the L. & S. and "Schmale's Zoo" waited on Governor Mathews on Saturday last, to ascertain his views concerning the expulsion of the military from the Armory in the Capital. COLLAPSE OF A FLOUR AT THE BURNBROOK MILL—Several Persons Injured—On Saturday morning the air was rife with rumors of a great catastrophe at the Burnbrook Mill, caused by the explosion of a boiler. The number of killed was variously placed at from four to sixteen, according to the fancy of the gossip, while the number of injured was hardly computed. All this was occasioned by the collapse of a fine in one of the boilers which supply the steam for both departments of the Burnbrook Mill, which caused an explosion that startled the citizens of Burnbrook from their usual peaceful pursuits and attracted an immense crowd of people to the vicinity of the mill.

There are four batteries of boilers at the Burnbrook Mill, each of which has two boilers. The fine which collapsed was in the second boiler in the lower battery, and the explosion, which occurred about 8 A. M., destroyed the wall and part of the sheeting in the rear of the mill, and made a total wreck of the scrap house, which stood directly back of it. The front end burst simultaneously with the rear, causing considerable damage to the connections and smoke conduits.

There were several persons injured, but none seriously. A boy named Bogard, engaged in hauling coal, was badly hurt, and is now lying in the hospital. He was pushing a car of coal on the tramway, just over the front end of the boiler, when the explosion happened, and was thrown violently to the ground. He was picked up, stunned and bleeding, and medical attention was called. He is now lying in the hospital, and is expected to recover.

Joseph Stephens, who met with the misfortune of breaking his leg, was able to be out last week, and is now at the Burnbrook Mill, where he has been employed for a considerable time with neuralgia, will leave in a short time for White Sulphur Springs, for the benefit of his health.

SATURDAY NIGHT'S ENTERTAINMENT FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE CHILDREN'S HOME—The audience which assembled in Washington Hall on Saturday evening for the purpose of enjoying a musical and dramatic entertainment for the benefit of the Children's Home was not nearly so large as it should have been. The inclement weather may have to some extent limited the attendance, but under any circumstances the laborers so generously to the public, and contribute to a charitable cause, merited recognition, and should have been gratified with a crowded house.

The entertainment opened with an overture by Kramer's superb orchestra, which captured the audience and put all in a good humor for the balance of the evening. Mr. Oscar Seeley sang a solo in his usual good style, and was followed by Miss Nellie Sweeney, one of Wheeling's sweetest singers. Both were encored, but simply bowed their acknowledgments.

A beautiful tableau, entitled "Elizabeth Gray," was the next feature of the entertainment. The picture was a faithful illustration of the lines:

"Lo! a woman, fair morning, kneels where Eng-
Tears like dew on roses falling, golden hair
That o'er her forehead hangs, and back her rank
And robes she takes."
Or that Ireland doted all England well were last
For sweet sake."

When the applause with which this beautiful picture was received had died away, Mrs. G. B. Caldwell came forward and sang a little gem, which was received with much favor. The soloist, Miss Caldwell, sang "Will-o'-the-Weir" with fine effect. Mrs. Whitaker was upon the programme for a solo, but excused herself on account of hoarseness, and the first part of the entertainment closed with a successful tableau entitled "Ophelia."

Mrs. Clifton's historical drama, "Margaret of Anjou," was then produced. The leading points of the drama have already been explained, and we will not weary the patience of our readers by a repetition of the details.

THE MATCH GAME OF BILLIARDS—The match game of billiards arranged between Billy Wheat, of this city, and T. T. Sullivan, of Bellaire, did not pan out. The game was to have been French cash, three hundred points, and the prize $50. A forfeit of $10 a side is in the hands of the stakeholder.
